Your summer of possibility starts here...

If you would've asked me 13 years ago what I thought was possible for my life, I never could have imagined this.

Sure, I've always believed in doing hard things. I've always tried not to underestimate myself. But wow, even I am blown away by how many lives Organize 365® has touched since those early days. When I look back at where we started - one podcast, one product, one idea - I'm humbled. Humbled by how many households are now functioning better because of something they learned from Organize 365. Because of a course they took, a system they implemented, a product they now use every day.

And that's why this Customer Appreciation Days event is so special. It's about possibility. It's about what becomes possible in your own life when you take control of what you can control.

When you get organized. When you go all-in on your uniqueness. When you stop waiting and start doing.

So now I want you to think about you.

Think about the areas of your life you've already conquered - the goals you've hit, the habits you've changed, the progress you've made. And then...think about what's still waiting for you. What's still on your list. What's still possible.

Let me remind you: the summer isn't lost. In fact, it's a season made for progress. Longer days. Lighter energy. A fresh perspective.

When I created my very first course, it was a 100-Day Home Organization Program. Why? Because no, you can't organize your whole house in one weekend but in 100 days? You can get really, really far.

And you know how many days summer has? 104.

What if this was the summer you leaned into your goals?
What if you just did one organizational task a day?
Where could you be by Labor Day?

Use this guide and this sale to stock up on everything you need - the courses, the tools, and the encouragement to finally move forward.

Your fall self will thank you.
Your future self will thrive.

Because every time you take a step toward becoming a more organized, productive version of yourself, you're getting closer to your full potential. You're making space to share your gifts. To feel in control. To feel positive. To feel capable.

I'm in awe of you. I'm cheering for you. And I'm forever grateful for this community. I appreciate you and I hope this Customer Appreciation Days event helps you go even further on your organizing journey.

SAVE 5 HOURS PER WEEK WITH THE SUNDAY BASKET®

Over a decade ago, I was drowning in paperwork, babies, and sleep deprivation. Out of that chaos, the Sunday Basket® was born - a simple yet powerful system I created to bring order to the daily avalanche of paper and never-ending to-dos in my brain creating immense overwhelm.

From mail and permission slips to receipts, notes, and to-do lists, the Sunday Basket® helps you gather, sort, and manage all your daily actionable papers in one place. If it comes into your house and needs your attention, it belongs in the Sunday Basket®.

Let this be the first step toward a calmer, more organized life!

The Complete Sunday Basket® System includes:

- Physical Sunday Basket in the color of your choice,
- The Sunday Basket Playbook,
- The Sunday Basket Course taught by Lisa Woodruff,
- (1) set of (5) - 1.0 rainbow slash pockets,
- (1) set of (20) 2.0 slash pockets
- Lifetime membership to the Sunday Basket Club on the Organize 365® Community App, and weekly Live Club co-working session

New & Noteworthy

We have some new products and offerings at Organize 365 that we are excited to share with you!

Mini Padfolio

The mini padfolio is the perfect tool to take all of your notetaking materials with you! It holds an Organize 365 Productivity Lined Notepad and pen (neither included) as well as notecards, receipts, and anything else you need to keep track of. The slim design fits easily into your bag and can be carried on the go!

Portable Productivity Insert

The Portable Productivity Insert secures into your Organize 365 Portable Sunday Basket - turning it into a bag that can store all of your essentials - books, slash pockets, a water bottle, and so much more. It includes two built-in compartments for water bottles and a lanyard for your keys.

PCS Planning Course

Designed with military families in mind who receive PCS orders to move, this course helps families take control of their move with a structured, no-stone-left-unturned approach. It comes with a physical workbook and lifetime access to the on-demand course. This offers a similar experience to a planning day, but can be done at your convenience. This is essential for anyone planning for an upcoming move!

This course also works great for any household manager who is planning for a move!

★★★★★ I've put my dreams on hold for a while.

"When I was a new mom, I didn't give up on my dreams, I just thought I'd get to them in a couple years. A couple years has turned into 18 years. It's time I start laying the groundwork. I have to start now so that in the next two or three years I have that next chapter. My biggest takeaway was to love the life I have now but start dreaming and planning about my future and future self."
